6. Compilation of the General Orders, &c., Issued in 1842-47 by Sir Charles Napier, G.C.B., Major-General Governor of Scinde, to The Army Under His Command. 1st Ed., xvi+141pp. + viii+pp. index. Bombay: Printed at The Times Press. 1850 Compiled by Lt.-Col. Edward Green, Asst. Adjutant-Gen., Scinde Div., who was Napier’s AAG from 1843 “to the time he left the Province” & dedicated the Compilation to his former chief (“with permission”). He explains in the Preface that “I feel convinced that they will be earnestly read & studied by Officers who have the interest of their profession at heart... They are, however, matters of history [and] I have sought to prevent anything in these orders from giving offence, by excluding names & places... they will naturally be known to those who served in Scinde during the time they were issued, as all orders were printed & circulated throughout the Province.” Contains sections of Civil & Military Orders for forces under command; Commissariat; Courts Martial, Courts of Enquiry &c.; Marches & Routes; Miscellaneous Orders & Parades including several episodes where officers & men are brought to notice for good conduct. Much interesting detail & invaluable source on Napier’s Army in Scinde. rare & not to date reprinted, but unlovely copy, black cloth, gilt to front, ex-RUSI with bookplate & lacking title page. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 60000] £145

(around 200 listed in this section). Orig. wraps., loosely housed in red cloth, gilt, binder (formerly retained by ribbon: deatched now, as always). Useful source on police & military officers (listed under regimental headings) & other officials present, as well as the list of veterans attending. VG thus & very scarce survival, complete with three of four fldg. maps in front-pocket: Plan of the Camp; Disposition of Troops & General Arrangements; Central Camp (rare with these maps present: still lacking the less important Skeleton Map of Delhi) with ink inscrip. of “Capt. Barlow, Hampshire Regiment, Brig. Maj. Viceroy’s Escort” i.e. Capt. N.W. Barlow. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 59917] £245

9. India. A Collection of Postcard Views of British Barracks & other Military Buildings & Amenities at the height of the Raj; also some topographical views of the NWF &c. A fine collection of approx. 465 commercially produced postcards depicting British stations, mainly in Northern & Central India, also some in South India. A wide ranging variety of subjects & locations, being a combination of finely produced b/w photos., tinted postcards &c.
An exceptional collection of commercially produced postcards dating from the late 19th & early 20th Centuries depicting British cantonments, parade grounds, barracks buildings, hospitals, railway stations, clubs, soldiers’ homes, post offices, &c., also various NWF views (Waziristan, Razmak Column, Khyber Pass, forts, camps &c.) & troops on the move. Locations include most of the major centres such as Simla, Rawalpindi, Quetta, Poona, Dalhousie, Mhow, Bareilly, Dagshai, Jhansi, Peshawar &c. A superlative potential resource for a publisher, researcher, or photographic archive interested in this field. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 56478] £1,200
10. Lieut.-General Sir James Outram’s Campaign in India, 1857-1858; comprising General Orders & Despatches Relating to the Defence & Relief of the Lucknow Garrison, & Capture of the City, by the British Forces; also, Correspondence Relating to the Relief, up to the Date when that Object was Effectuated by Sir Colin Campbell. Printed for Presentation to Personal Friends of Sir James Outram, who begs that it may be regarded as a Private Communication, & not a Publication. Pre-issue proof., xi+208pp. Printed for Private Circulation Only by Smith, Elder & Co. 1859
This is a proof copy dated on tp MDCCCLIX [1859]: however the only correction is to the publisher’s address on the title page. The version finally printed, in 1860 consists of 412pp. & includes extracts from correspondence not present here: it would appear this matter was an afterthought. The text here consists of General Orders & Despatches, identical to the 1860 edition up to pp.176, where, in the latter, in square brackets, is found the statement [The Editor has thought it advisable to insert, at this place, a series of letters addressed by Sir James Outram to the Commander-in-Chief, in which he rectified certain omissions he had made in his previous despatches. These letters, hitherto unpublished, are inserted in justice to the many gallant officers whose names were not publicly mentioned in General Orders, & who naturally felt hurt at the oversight...]. The work here offered includes some Lucknow correspondence & a small amount of matter that did not end up in the 1860 version. Later brown binder’s cloth, gilt to sp., VG. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 59997] £325

The scarce confidential official account (including operations 1860-1920, with considerable detail on the little-known 1917 campaign) with valuable orders of battle &c. Individually numbered “Serial No. 569” but total no. produced is unknown to us. Orig. three-qtr. calf, green cloth, claret sp labels, gilt, the leather a little rubbed, stained & worn as always but overall VG, good copy & complete. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 59878] £375

Customary rules & regs. for officers. NCOs & rank & file, inc. duties of gun-lascars, rosters for duty, guards & picquets, defaulters, barracks, rations & messing, hospital, ordnance, pay, dress &c. Much interesting detail on the organisation of the Bombay Artillery. Contemp. qtr. calf, marbled paper covd. boards, somewhat rubbed & worn but VG for the period. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 57768] £145

Report of the debate plus press opinions. The debate particularly concerned “the position of the civilians in the N.W. Provinces of India” who felt that they were victims of a “scandalous breach of faith on the part of the Government,” i.e. “Lord Dalhousie gave a pledge that half the Commissionerships & Asst. Commissionerships in the Punjab & Oudh should be given to the civilians of those provinces. But the promise has been flagrantly broken...” Interesting debate on patronage in India & the ICS. Wraps. somewhat foxed/stained, VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 54708] £45

25. HAMILTON (Trooper T.C., 15th Hussars) Diary of Our March from Meerut to Kandahar, October 1878 to April 1879. 1st Ed., [ii]+[ii]+74pp. No imprint but Meerut. 1879
Rare & detailed private account of the operations of the 15th Hussars in the second Afghan War. “...merely a simple narrative of the March of the 15th Hussars from Meerut to Khelat-i-Ghilzai & back again, detailing only events that came under the observation of a soldier in the ranks & as touching our own regiment... Each day’s events were jotted down at the time they occurred... the book may be relied upon as a statement of facts. Meerut, August 1879.” Despite the author’s self-effacing statements the book contains much interesting detail on actions with the Southern Army during the campaign, inc. notes on the operations of detached Squadrons which he did not personally observe (“Reconnaissance of ‘A’ & ‘C’ Troops in the Arghasun Valley” &c.). Concludes with short account of the 1st Afghan War & an ‘Epitome’ of the regiment’s marches during the campaign. No copies on Library Hub (formerly COPAC). Recorded by Victor Sutcliffe (in his Regiments of the British Army A Handbook With Book Lists - Part 2 - Cavalry & Armour) who states that it was used heavily by Wylly in his chapter on the campaign in the regimental history, & that it was published by Charles & Co. Medical Hall Press at Meerut in 1879. This copy came to me disbound & has been neatly bound in blue cloth with gilt title to front board & new tp. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 59971] £325

Commandant of Hodson’s Horse, killed at Lucknow, who had played the decisive & controversial role in the arrest of Bahadur Shah, King of Delhi, & the execution of his sons. This edition contains a new Introduction being largely “a Vindication from the Charges made by Mr Bosworth Smith in his ‘Life of Lord Lawrence.” Orig brown cloth, gilt, minor wear, about VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 53882] £45
In most cases the deeds for which the IOM was awarded are detailed. Campaigns in this volume principally Afghan & Sikh wars as well as the Mutiny, & various lesser campaigns. Orig. red cloth, VG & rare (just 500 copies printed). See illustration on our website. [Ref: 53840] £350

Jacquemont, a French naturalist, arrived in Pondicherry in 1829 & travelled extensively in the northern frontier regions (Ladak, Kashmir &c.), met Ranjit Singh & Shuja but died of illness at Bombay in 1832. His letters, originally published in 1832 “give a most vivid account of the botany of the N.W. Himalayas & particularly of the social condition of India in those days” (Buckland: Dictionary of Indian Biography). Orig. green cloth, gilt, somewhat worn but sound ex-Times book club. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 55651] £20

1830s to modern times, “with a focus on the Afghans’ manoeuvres, fighting techniques & strategies…” See illustration on our website. [Ref: 57822] £20

Pioneering episodes in Indian history from early days to the British ‘conquest,’ plus sections on several different regions. Published in a series of jingoistic works by the author on nations of the Empire. Orig. dec. green cloth, gilt, sp. little faded o/w VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 52787] £25

Historical account with a useful Appendix listing surviving veterans (“by far the most complete & trustworthy that has ever been issued”) at time of publication. These survivors are usefully listed by regiments. Recent brown binder’s cloth, titled in darker brown to sp., panel from orig. front board nicely inset to front, internal edge staining to first & last few leaves, sound & VG thus, & scarce. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 59913] £125

Prior to Indian Independence there were some 560 Princely States that, during the British colonial era, retained a degree of autonomy including the right to maintain their own forces. These maintained their own system of honours & campaign medals, which are detailed here in an excellent, well-illustrated, study with much on the background of the various medals & awards, with descriptions & illustrations of all, as well as some interesting background material on the histories of these states & their forces. VG in dw, signed by author, plus Errata slip loosely inserted. Scarce. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 60020] £65

Mackenzie was a subaltern with the 3rd Bengal Light Cavalry at Meerut on the outbreak of the Mutiny & was later in the Siege of Delhi & Relief of Lucknow (with other irregular cavalry regiments). Atmospheric account that first appeared in the columns of the Pioneer newspaper. The first edition was published in 1891 & both editions are rare. Contemp. black half morocco, little rubbed & worn, generally VG & rare. See illustration on our website.

[Ref: 57616] £225

A biographical sketch of William Ruxton Eneas Alexander, his services in the Burmese War 1852 (commanding the Ramghur Irregular Cavalry: Pegu, Thoma &c.) & Indian Mutiny. Six copies on Library Hub (formerly COPAC). Ladendorf 355; Raugh 6885 (“This is a biography of Gen. W.R.E. Alexander, who, as a captain, served in the 53rd Native Infantry at the beginning of the Indian Mutiny. His experiences upon the outbreak & & early in the Indian Mutiny at Calpee & retreating to Agra are described in interesting detail. Alexander raised ‘Alexanders’ Horse’ in the Agra area in October 1857, & later commanded it at Cawnpore & Bundelcund…” His life story was related to the author/editor, Pitt, who evidently made extensive notes, or had an exceptional recall for detail, in writing this excellent biography.

Orig. light blue cloth, gilt title to sp., mounted Indian cavalryman to front, externally dampspotted & worn, inside VG, sound thus & rare. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 60007] £225

35. ROBERTSON (Sir George S., KCSI) Chitral: The Story of a Minor Siege. 1st Ed., xi+368pp., 32 plates, 5 maps & plans. Methuen & Co. 1898

37. Tirah 1897: Personal pocket diary of Lt. C.H. Villiers-Stuart, 21st Regiment of Madras Infantry (Pioneers). A small leather covd. notebook, 140x90mm, containing diary of events between 14th Sept. 1897 (“Left Belgaum full of phiz and many boxes tiffin”) & 31st November, including one small sketch of Shinawari Camp defences, together with delicate pencil sketch of Shinawari Camp, 180x110mm (annoted: “Sniping from here about 1000 yards from camp” &c.) with another sketch of the Shinawari-Karuppa Road on reverse, similarly annotated, together with a very fine cabinet card portrait of the diarist in the uniform of the 21st Madras Pioneers, 160x100mm, by S. Madheo & Son, Belgaum. The diary is written in pencil (the pencil still present in an integral holder on the spine of the notebook) in a tiny
Serving with the 2nd Division, the 1st Madras Pioneers’ main task was to build the road from Shinawari Camp to the Sampargha Pass, after which the Army moved forwards & the regiment was no longer employed. For several months they toiled on the road & other projects, at the same time picketing their camps, building sangars & zarebas, & frequently under sniping or direct attacks by the Afridis. Some extracts: 29th Sept. 1897: “At work on road all day. Did all our part and then found P.W.D. [Public Works Department] hadn’t done theirs and had to do it for them. Also more tomorrow. No food for men at all. 2nd Gurkhas come in from Fort Lockhart. Also no food. Convoy come in with telegraph poles. Rather indigestible. Got some eggs for dinner not much else. Everyone rather stuffy - Dinner improved everyone’s temper.” 21st Oct. 1897: “Rose at 2 a.m. Loaded all stuff on 720 mules, donkeys and ponies and marched off at 6:30. Rather confused two staff officers. Got about 300 yards along road. Stuck down in freezing cold bottom of valley for an hour. Took us till 12 to get to Kotal then we halted while the 2nd Gurkha Rifles, Dorsets, and Gordons went up to take Dargai heights. We could see as plain as print 1200 yards away. They worked up to open space and crossing over dropped all round. The guns had no effect as they were in such strong sangars. At about 3 the Gordons charged across and then Gordons, Dorsets, and Gurkhas all scrambled up together. Cowie up first. Total casualties officers: 3 killed, 8 wounded. Men: 35 killed, 163 wounded. After fight over we got orders to go up to S. Sok [Samana Suk] to hold it and no one to go on to Karappa. Brooking told me to go and load up mules with A [Anderson] as previous orders were to camp for night on Kotal. Then I went with one section to water. Left baggage at X. Tore off and found.... I went by lower road and sent section by top road. Waited till 6 when Hendley turned up. Had half potted meat, choc and biscuit. Waited till 9:50 when greatcoats, officers baggage, half mess, and a few rations turned up. Hendley took them on to find camp never having seen ground before and quite dark. I patrolled road till 3:30 but no more baggage came so started up for camp. About 200 yards away found Marsh and picket and fire. Coal [?] had been sent for me but I had been wandering down S. [Shinawari] road and he didn’t see me. He told me the camp was about 3 or 4 miles away so I started off taking one man and fell on them about 2½ miles away. Found my blanket and turned in 5:15. Hendley and mules hadn’t found B [Brooking] and Huggins [CO] and 3 Company and Bruce … and rest were there by water. Brooking had turned up night before to get Sok [Samana Suk] in case enemy were making for it and it got dark too soon for the rest to find them.” 23rd Oct. 1897: “Parade 5 a.m. for works on road back to Kotal. Worked till 2 and then came back. Had bath. First for days. Got 16 fowls and 64 eggs from villages, Pathan bread and corn. Had … dinner anchovy eggs. Turned in 8:30, at 9:30 sniping began. At 10:15 attacks on camp. Heavy firing on N [North] and West. Jemadar L Khan and Kalistan hit. Bullet hit sandbag below head. Went out and fixed bayonets. Couldn’t fire acct [on account of] troops on right and left. Turned in again 11 p.m. Enemy got 5 yards from Gordons zareba. 9 bodies found. Hope some more killed.” Note: I have transcribed this diary carefully, but a few words remain indistinct: the writing is largely clear but some dampstaining to the edges of some leaves render a few words difficult. Some of the entriess are written in reverse order, presumably as VS has recalled recent events & the original diary contains very little punctuation: some punctutation &c. has been added to the transcript in the interests of clarity. VS served in further campaigns & was Killed in Action at Gallipoli in 1915 while serving on Birdwood’s ANZAC staff. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 58671] £1,250

Somme & Passchendaele). Ed. at Eton & joined Scots Guards Sept. 1915: 1st Bn. in France from June 1916, serving with them up until his death apart from some time attd. to brigade staff. MC & bar; KiA 27/9/18. Orig. blue cloth, gilt, VG & very scarce. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 55677] £145

Daniel Edward Bradby, born at Rugby in 1896, the son of a Rugby School housemaster (H.C. Bradby, compiler of the volume) & educated there, was commissioned in the Rifle Brigade in 1914 & joined the 9th (S) Bn. in France in Dec. 1915; became O.C. “B” Coy. in September 1916 (after the Battle of Flers-Courcelette) & was KIA near the Harp Redoubt during the Battle of Arras on 9th May 1917. He was twenty years old & is buried in Tilloy British Cemetery. Contains around 175pp. letters from the front, also lengthy extracts from various letters of condolence etc. Interestingly contains a (fairly indistinct) photograph of Bradby and another officer near the Harp Redoubt taken on the day of his death. In his final letter to his Mother, written on 8th April 1917 and left with a colleague (“I am giving this letter to some one or other who is staying behind to post if I get knocked out, so I hope you will never read it!”) he wrote: "If I am killed you will at any rate know that I died trying to do my duty, and thinking always of you at home who I love so dearly.” Orig. grey paper covered boards with wheat cloth backstrip & paper sp. label, this sl. chipped o/w VG & rare. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58579] £245

105. James Colin MacLehose 2nd Lieut., Rifle Brigade 1897-1917. 1st Ed., 39pp., 5 portraits, 2 other plates. Glasgow: Printed for Private Circulation at the University Press. 1918

MacLehose was elder son of J.C. Maclehose, publisher to Glasgow University, & his wife Mary. Ed. at Rugby 1911-16; from school he went to the 4th Cadet Bn. at Oxford, was commissioned in the Rifle Brigade in November & joined 16th (S) Bn. in France in Jan. 1917. He was KIA in a night raid east of Ypres on 14th Feb. - rather less than six weeks after arriving - his last words as he was wounded being “Carry on, men, carry on.” He was leading a raiding party and had not even reached the German wire when mortally wounded. The raid failed, the wire being uncut by the artillery preparation. Brown cloth with leather sp. label, another version seen, bound in brown paper covd. boards with gilt title to sp. VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 57831] £145

Arthur George Heath was born in London in 1887 & educated at the Grocers’ Company’s School & New College, Oxford, becoming, after graduation, a Fellow of the College, then travelled in France and Germany for a year before settling down to teaching modern philosophy. He obtained a commission in the newly raised 6th (Service) Battalion of the Royal West Kent Regiment in 1914, went to France in 1915 & was KIA on 8th October 1915, aged 28, in an attack on Gun Trench near La Bassée. He has no known grave and is commemorated on the Loos Memorial. Contains a memoir, letters in training 1914-15 and from France & Flanders June-October 1915, with much of interest on regimental routine & Active Service: “I would rather have a man take a little risk now and then, firing at what he thinks a loophole or a periscope, than remain forever huddled down behind the sandbags quite indignant if anyone on his side fires a shot, for fear that the Germans shall reply. That is the attitude of a lot of the ex-regular N.C.O.’s especially. This trench life in any case is not good for morale. How does anyone suppose the troops will face the open after it? I think I must take more men out on little expeditions at night, just to get them used to the absence of a parapet...” Orig. apple green cloth, titled in green to spine & New College crest to front. Very rare privately published memoirs of Capt. Herbert Mayow Adams, MC, who was Ed. at Marlborough & Oxford, embarked for France with 2/8th Worcesters (TF) 24th May 1916. They were part of the 61st (2nd South Midland) Division, & served with this formation on the Western Front until the end of the war, including operations at Fromelles in 1916, the Ancre & Ypres in 1917, the German counter-attack after Cambrai & Somme 1918. By January 1918 Adams was commanding “B” Coy. & was awarded the MC; he afterwards commanded No. 4 Section, “B”Coy., 48th Bn. MGC in France & Italy during 1918. He did not play a part in any major offensives, but his very detailed, matter-of-fact, account of several years of trench warfare, much of it spent in quiet but rarely uneventful sectors, provides a valuable account of war on the Western Front. He frequently mentions officers & men in his unit, & at the end are rolls of “B” Coy., 2/8th Worcesters & his machine-gunners in 48th MG Battalion, as well as a detailed index. Orig. pale mottled paper cvd. boards with wheat cloth backstrip, titled in black to sp., VG & rare privately printed memoirs. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58626] £275

Doctor at a base hospital in France then MO to 3rd Bn. Grenadier Guards from mid-1917 to 1918. "Mr Dearden, a well-known writer, served as a medical officer on the Western Front. The chief fault to be found with his diary is that it is in fact not a diary at all, for the entries are undated. Otherwise it is good. The little trivial incidents of life in a base hospital, 'the daily round, the common task,' are described in an interesting way. The operating ward is dealt with impressively but with dignity. The later sketches of the line are equally good. Mr Dearden writes well & thinks sanely" - Falls. Orig. red cloth, gilt, VG & uncommon. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58604] £75

   The boys of Germany born in 1902, due for call-up had the war lasted longer. Falls gives a lengthy review: “...It has been highly praised in Germany & has indeed a good deal of merit. Yet one cannot think that all the sentiments attributed to the boys of the war were realy theirs at the time... Sexual licence & sexual perversity, so common in German fiction of this period, take all too large a place...” Orig. blue cloth, gilt, VG in attractive patterned dw with publisher’s wraparound band with quote from Guardian review: “As fine an achievement as any war-novelist has accomplished.” See illustration on our website.    In his Preface the author states that “Most of what I have written deals with the years 1914-22 & is taken from brief diaries made at the time...” He was Attaché to the Military Household of the King of Belgium, Leopold I, 1915-20, & in 1914, went to Belgium with a consignment of material for the relief of Belgian refugees; was present at the Siege of Antwerp, where he had several meetings with the First Sea Lord - Winston Churchill - & also met Col. Seely for the first time (he became Seely’s Orderly Officer, & Seely writes in the Foreword that “I owed so much to his kindly help & fearless action during the brief but dramatic siege of Antwerp in 1914”). This period is described with much interesting detail in the main text & the Appendix reproduces his diary of events at Antwerp from 6th-12th October 1914, being a contemporary Report requested by Churchill. Most interesting on this period & other events of the author’s life. VG & scarce, especially in dw. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 59912] £65

   Gray was a ‘gentleman ranker’ Ed. at Rugby School who practised as a solicitor. Largely Western Front memoirs. Pre-1914 1st KOSB Egypt, Sudan, India then in 1914 served with 2nd Argyll & Sutherland Highlanders as machine-gun officer: later to the MGC, commanding the 33rd Battalion, awarded DSO & MC. Hutchison, a prolific author, is chiefly remembered for his battalion’s defence of Meteren in April 1918 (somewhat devalued by his repetition of the story at every available opportunity) & his post-war espousal of fascism. Author was, among other accomplishments, a war artist (his history of the 33rd Bn. MGC includes num. col. plates & b/w sketches by him, as do other works). This copy bears a rather nice ink self-portrait sketch, in wartime garb, to ffep, alongside ink inscrip. “Graham Seton Hutchison Dec. 1934.” Orig. blue cloth, sp. sunned o/w VG. 186.  JONES (Lt. [Henry] Paul [Mainwaring]) War Letters of a Public-School Boy. With a Memoir by His Father. 1st Ed., vi+280pp., portrait, 7 plates. Cassell. 1918
Jones was Ed. at Dulwich & Balliol. Poor vision prevented a combatant commission but he joined the ASC in April 1915 & served in France from July that year, with 9th Cavalry Brigade, 1st Cavalry Division: almost one year later he was transferred to the Divisional Supply Column as Supply Officer then to command an ammunition working-party on the Somme. In February 1917 he secured a transfer to the Machine Gun Corps Heavy Branch – the Tank Corps – & served with “C” (or 3rd) Battalion at Arras then was killed in action on 31st July 1917 (first day of the Third Battle of Ypres): “when advancing with his tank north-east of Ypres, he was killed by a sniper’s bullet.” He was incredibly unlucky as, according to Cpl. Jenkins, 2ic of his tank, the bullet entered the tank through a port-hole and hit him in the head. He has no known grave & is commemorated on the Menin Gate. Contains detailed biographical notes and some 120pp. observant war letters for eighteen months at the front. Orig. green cloth, titled in black, VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 59251] £75

Harold Edward Howse was born in Port Elizabeth, South Africa, 1894, descendant of an 1820 settler. He was Ed. at Rondebosch High School, the Grey Institute at Port Elizabeth & Rhodes University College, Grahamstown. He took a full part in university life: Debating Society, joint-editor of the Magazine, on the Students’ Representative Council, Rugby football etc., narrowly missing 1st Class Honours when he graduated in history in 1913. He then obtained a job “in a business house,” but “From the uncongenial atmosphere of commerce he was released by the calling out of the Defence Force in the first month of the War.” He served on Garrison duty at Cape Town with Prince Alfred’s Guard, but after some eight months active duty was released & became a school teacher. However, later in 1915 he decided to go to England & obtain a commission. In March 1916 he joined an Officer Cadet Battalion at Lichfield, was commissioned in the Berkshire Regiment (SR) in August, posted to the 2nd Battalion in France & gassed at Les Boeufs in November. Rejoining his battalion the following spring he was killed in action 16th Aug. 1917 during the Third Battle of Ypres, has no known grave & is commemorated on the Tyne Cot Memorial. He was posthumously Mentioned in Despatches. 205. MAXWELL (Mrs C.) Frank Maxwell, Brig.-General, VC, CSI, DSO: A Memoir & Some Letters. Edited by His Wife. 1st Ed., xi+228pp., 5 plates, 2 sketches. dw. Murray. 1921
Francis Aylmer Maxwell was born in 1871, Ed. at the United Service College at Westward Ho! & Sandhurst. In 1891 he joined the Royal Sussex Regiment in India for a year before his appointment to the Indian Army, initially to the 24th Punjab Inf. His first active service was in the Tochi Valley in 1895, then in the Chitral Relief Expedition when he was attached to the Guides Cavalry. During this campaign he was recommended for the VC. The following year, 1896, he transferred to the 18th Lancers, saw further active service on the North-West Frontier including A.D.C. to his uncle, Gen. Sir William Lockhart, in the Tirah Expedition, after which he was awarded the DSO. He was attached to Roberts’ Horse in South Africa during the Boer War, when he was awarded the V.C. for gallantry at Sannah’s Post. He was A.D.C. to Lord Kitchener (who bestowed on him the nickname “The Brat”) & Military Secretary to Lord Hardinge. In 1916 he was posted to France & given command of the 12th (S) Bn., Middlesex Regiment – a New Army unit that had failed to perform & required firm leadership to bring it up to standard. Under Maxwell’s command the battalion was transformed, doing well on the Somme including the capture of Trônes Wood & Thiepval. Maxwell received a bar to the DSO & command of the 27th Infantry Brigade, 9th (Scottish) Division. He was killed in action on 21st Sept. 1917 while personally undertaking a reconnaissance in No-Man’s-Land. He is buried in Ypres Reservoir Cemetery. Excellent memorial to a fine soldier, based on his letters from various campaigns, including the Western Front 1916-17. Orig. red cloth, gilt, 18th Lancers (IA) crest to front, near fine in rare dw (lacking top part of rear panel). See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 59975] £165

All Tuohy's work are unaccountably rare, & this is the rarest, & as with his other works is an assembly of true events of espionage & intelligence gathering, this time rendered, to a degree, in fictional form. Tuohy was a war correspondent & intelligence expert - whose “The Secret Corps” (Murray, 1922) described some aspects of intelligence work in the Great War, including personal experience. Nicely rebound in red cloth, gilt to sp., VG thus & rare. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 59952] £90

Tuohy - war correspondent & intelligence expert - whose “The Secret Corps” (Murray, 1922) described some aspects of intelligence work in the Great War here provides his reminiscences of various events from work at GHQ in France to further afield. He travelled widely during the war & Falls states: “His sketches... are light & agreeable reading. Perhaps the best of them is ‘The German Lawrence,’ a description of Wassmuss, the celebrated German consul at Bushire who caused us so much trouble in Southern Persia. Another paper on Lawrence himself is original & suggestive.” His work in Flanders & elsewhere, dealing with German prisoners & so forth, is also of great interest. Tuohy held a commission on the Special List & was employed under the Director of Military Intelligence at the War Office. Orig. black cloth, titled in red, VG & rare. See illustration on our website. Canada to Ireland: The Visit of the “Duchess of Connaught’s Own.” By A.M. Drysdale. 1st Ed., orig. pictorial wraps., 20pp., 7 photo. plates. (battalion on parade, &c.) T. Fisher Unwin. 1917
Commemorative souvenir of the visit of the Duchess of Connaught’s Own Irish Canadian Rangers to Ireland in Jan. & Feb. 1917, when they received an enthusiastic welcome from Limerick to Belfast & were received everywhere from Catholic cathedrals to a dinner for the men at the Ulster Hall. The Irish Canadians, aka 199th Canadian Infantry Bn., did not reach the western Front as a unit: arriving in England after their Irish tour they were absorbed into the 23rd Reserve Bn. within several months. This is, therefore, an unusual survival of the regiment’s brief existence. Sl soiled o/w VG. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 55743] £65

Wild was commissioned in the 7th (S) Bn. SLI 28/1/1915, later advanced to Captain & was Mentioned in Despatches. He had previously been a Sgt. in the Surrey Yeomanry. He served with the 7th SLI in France & Flanders 1915-17 until missing in action 30/11/1917, his death was later presumed to have taken place on that day. A memoir compiled by his mother including 27pp. (6000 words) transcript of a diary-letter from France, August-Nov. 1915: sporadic but lengthy instalments, witty & informative record: “a sort of family letter which may be of interest to pass round to Aunts & Uncles &c.” This is followed by press obits. inc. a letter from a private in his Coy. describing the circumstances of his death; a 2pp. letter, 1918, from a brother officer, on the news of the presumption of his death, then 16pp. (some 3000 words) extracts from letters from the Front. August 1915-June 1916. An extract from the diary-letter, describing a typical day in the trenches: “1 Hour before dawn: My ‘observer’ or my servant, or both in necessary come & shout into my ear ‘Stand to just gone sir’ - I roll out, & being very cross I go & make myself as objectionable as possible to any men I find not ready at their posts. I then proceed to stumble along the traverses occupied by my platoon, falling over everything that it is possible to fall over & keeping myself warm by my language. As this is the hour supposed to me most favourable for an attack, being a sort of half light, all the sentries think they see things which are not there, & usually see how much ammunition they can let off. As this gets taken up my all the other men who have just been roused up there is a considerable amount of noise going on which lasts till ‘Stand down’ 5 a.m. or thereabouts...
5.10 a.m. The officers retire for an early cup of tea & a cigarette. Just as I am thinking of turning in & really getting a little sleep one of the others comes up, & giving some more or less plausible excuse says 'I say old chap, I wonder if you would like to do the next turn of duty (4 hours) it really is my turn but...' 5.30-9.30: Tramp up & down the Company line, see the men's rations served out... have a good look at the German line through my periscope to see of there are any fresh developments...” And so the day goes on. In November “I took out my first patrol between the lines, for the purpose of finding out the thickness & also the state of repair of the German wire... It was a case of crawling all the way (about 350 yards) as there was a fairly large moon which made it necessary to take plenty of cover... Several times we were held up by large parties of the enemy which after several minutes breathless suspense turned out to be small bushes... eventually we reached our destination, & having cut off a piece of their wire... we retraced our steps, & got in after having been out about 2 hours...” An interesting & well-written description of trench warfare & a fine tribute assembled by his mother. Among other loosely inserted items is a printed slip from The Times newspaper with her advertisement pasted on: “To Officers & Others. Any information that can be given by anyone who saw Captain L.T. Wild, Somerset Light Infantry, when he was wounded on November 30 will be gratefully received by Mrs A.S. Wild, 21 Canning-road, Crydon.” VG. See illustrations on our website. [Ref: 58672] £465

297. 153 Infantry Brigade in the Sicilian Campaign. Contemp. operational report, [iii]+108pp., foolscap., dup. typescript, 6 fldg. maps bound in at end.
   A highly detailed report of the 153 (Black Watch & Gordon) Infantry Brigade of the 51st (Highland) Division during the short campaign in Sicily, July-August 1943, complete with 6 fldg. maps (cut-down sections of contemp. operational maps). Copy No. 25 of unknown total, this the “Personal Property of Major H. Dunn” & Preface states: “The following account of the operations of 153 Brigade in the Campaign in Sicily in 1943 was compiled immediately after the island had been conquered & was completed by the end of August of that year. The final draft was made out by me [Brigadier H. Muarry, commanding 153 Bde.] & was subsequently checked by Battalion Commanders & others... The number of copies that could be printed was necessarily few as the amount of paper available for printing was small. The copies that have been issued are entirely personal copies for the exclusive use of the recipients... It is to be regretted that maps could not be made available for all copies...” But note, all the maps listed in the Contents are present in this copy. Contents retained with cord in orig. contemp. card folder with small typed title label to front. An important contemp. document & self evidently rare. See illustrations on our website. 322. BICKERSTETH (Anthony Charles, sometime Major 4/10 GR) ODTAA: Being Extracts from the diary of an Officer who served with the 4/10th Gurkha Rifles in Manipur & Burma. With Foreword by Gen. Sir Douglas Gracey, former GOC 20th (Indian) Div. 1st Ed., xvi+258pp., portrait frontis., 18 maps (some fldg.). Privately printed at The Aberdeen Univ. Press. 1953
Tony Bickersteth was commissioned from OCTU in 1941 & volunteered for India: he was posted to 4th Bn. 10th Gurkha Rifles, then training in Ceylon, in May that year & served with the famous 20th (Indian) Division throughout its active serve in Assam & Burma from 1943-45 apart from a short period from May-July 1944 recovering from wounds. He commanded “C” Coy. until wounded & “B” Coy. on his return. The bn. first patrolled the Kabaw Valley & fought in the Battle of Imphal, then advanced south to take part in the Irrawaddy Crossing (notably the ferocious fighting at Talingon in the bridgehead area) & on to Prome & almost Rangoon. The author maintained a diary on active service which he augmented & wrote up on his return to England, intending to pass it over to the regimental historian as source material. However, the book serves as an excellent battalion history in its own right. It was privately published by his father after his tragic death, killed by a lightning flash in the Savoy Alps in 1948. The first part of the title stands for One Damn Thing After Another. Orig. green cloth, gilt, very sp. sl. rubbed o/w VG. Scarce. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 58782] £125

Then a civilian architect in the Public Works Dept. at Singapore, Inglis describes the last days there - even with Jap tanks lapping at their door the British community believed they were invulnerable. Among those authorised to leave 48 hours before the capitulation, he was bombed on the quayside but escaped: “I travelled in 15 different boats... walked about 20 miles, went by lorry, bus, car & train & even swam for seven & a half hours, & arrived in Colombo possessing only the shirt & shorts I stood up in!” The first craft was sunk by bombs, he was pulled out of the water by Malay fishermen, continued by sampan, island hopping to Sumatra & finally picked up by a RN destroyer. On arrival in India he was commissioned in the RIE & died at sea in Feb. 1944. No. 27 of 100 copies printed for the family of Major Inglis “so that his friends may have a permanent record of his experiences.” Rare & interesting account of escape from Singapore. Rare Commando history presumably printed in Malta for the unit. No copies on Library Hub (formerly COPAC) although the IWM hold a copy & one was sold at auction in 2017 for a hammer price of £360. The Introduction states, inter al., that “We were called upon to take over the internal security of Haifa Port at an extremely tense period in Jewish-Arab relationships. The whole country was seething with racial hatred, & Haifa was well to the fore in open acts of violence. Unfortunately, British soldiers, as independent arbitrators, were inevitably involved in these racial disputes. They were the scapegoats of both Jew & Arab: each side accused them of being prejudiced in favour of the other, & each side was quick to blame them for its own shortcomings. In this difficult atmosphere of hatred, suspicion & violence, we took over our duties. The Green Beret became a familiar feature of the Port & town of Haifa. And there is very reason to believe that is was respected by all who came into contact with it.” This account details many acts of terrorism & violence during the operational deployment, which culminated with the unit covering the evacuation of British forces in Palestine via Haifa at the end of the intervention. Orig. wraps., stained, the text sound but four photos. obscured by the closing together of the plate sections by damp, therefore only 6 of the 10 photos. are viewable. Nevertheless, clearly rare in any state & an important account for the period. See illustration on our website. [Ref: 59972] £225
